

The Exeter Group of Companies Promotes Amanda J. Brynoff to Vice President and Controller

Promotion reflects The Exeter Group's growing trust, agency and custody businesses

Cheyenne, Wyoming – March 20, 2026 – The Exeter Group of Companies announced today the promotion of Amanda J. Brynoff to the position of Vice President and Controller. In her elevated executive role, Brynoff will direct the comprehensive financial and regulatory reporting, accounting operations, external audits and exams, and internal controls across all entities within the corporate structure. This encompasses direct financial oversight of Exeter 1031 Exchange Services, Exeter Trust Company, and Exeter Asset Services Corporation.

Brynoff brings a wealth of specialized experience in financial and accounting administration to the executive leadership team. Her promotion underscores the organization's steadfast commitment to maintaining rigorous financial standards and precise operational accounting. This dedication to institutional accuracy is particularly critical for Exeter Trust Company, a Wyoming corporation that is licensed, regulated, and examined by the Wyoming Division of Banking.

"Amanda has consistently demonstrated exceptional dedication and technical expertise during her tenure with our organization," said William L. Exeter, Chair and Chief Executive Officer of The Exeter Group of Companies. "Her leadership capabilities and strategic approach to our complex accounting operations have been invaluable to our corporate growth. This promotion directly reflects her significant contributions to our structural stability and long-term success."

As Vice President and Controller, Brynoff will continue to work closely with executive management and external auditors to ensure transparent, compliant, and highly structured financial practices. Her extensive professional background provides the necessary foundation to navigate the nuanced financial requirements specific to the trust administration, asset management, and tax-deferred exchange sectors.

"As our organization continues to expand its service offerings, maintaining strict financial oversight and precise regulatory alignment is absolutely paramount," stated Maureen H. Brown, President and Chief Operating Officer of The Exeter Group of Companies. "Amanda possesses the exact technical knowledge, analytical skills, and operational focus necessary to ensure our accounting practices continuously meet the highest standards expected by our industry, our clients, and our governing regulators."
